

Message From Us Counselors

The Stress and Anxiety You May Be Experiencing Right Now part 3 ◆ Social communication

2020.4.24

Keio Student Counseling Room

Acknowledge the Stress You Receive From the Environment

- ▶ The interpersonal stress you may experience under restricted circumstances
- ▶ The stress from the media
- ▶ The stress that comes from no sense of belonging to the university

The Interpersonal Stress You May Experience Under Restricted Circumstances

Under irregular circumstances, it is easier to have emotional misunderstandings or conflicts.

Loneliness

Not being able to share values, not being able to understand each other

Being scared

You may want to see someone but be scared of being infected at the same time

Anxiety

Being anxious if you can keep the relationship as it is

Anger

You may be angry at someone who wouldn't care for you as much as you need them too

Given that we may not be able to adequately care for others emotions now, we may need to be generous and keep a moderate distance with others.

※Acknowledge that there are frauds or cults, political groups disguised to be circles etc that may contact you especially when you are feeling lonely.

Keio Student Counseling Room

The Stress From Media

These days the TV and internet is full of information about the Covid-19. Taking in too much of this information can be a cause of stress. Spending too much time on SNS or binge watching videos can also lead to an unhealthy lifestyle. Make sure your sources are straight.

Don't leave the TV on (Set a time and just watch the shows you want to see)

Be cautious for private information on the SNS

Get information about the virus from a reliable source (From public institutions or professionals)

Delete the spam mails and chain mails

Set a time when you use the internet or play a TV game

The Stress That Comes From No Sense of Belonging to the University

Especially if you are a freshman you maybe anxious that you can't come to the university and meet you professors or make new friends. To be honest, us counselors can't give you specific advice since we too have never experienced anything like this before. But let's believe there will come a day when we can walk around the campus with a smile on our faces. Let's get through a day at a time.

- * If there is a chance to socialize online, try it out (Everyone is a bit scared)
- * If there is something that you urgently need to solve, try contacting your professors (You don't have to know them in person)
- * Have a friend, they could be your high school friends, that you can have a chat with (on the phone or online)
- * Looking forward to the day when we can come to university, keep having a healthy lifestyle

Let's meet on campus someday

Reference

(Japanese only)

厚生労働省 こころもメンテしようー若者を支えるメンタルヘルスサイト

<https://www.mhlw.go.jp/kokoro/youth/stress/index.html>

(Japanese only)

文部科学省 在外教育施設安全対策資料【心のケア編】 第2章心のケア各論

https://www.mext.go.jp/a_menu/shotou/clarinet/002/003/010/003.htm

American Psychological Association (2020). Keeping Your Distance to Stay Safe.

<https://www.apa.org/practice/programs/dmhi/research-information/social-distancing>

Japanese Red Cross Society (2020). Three faces we must be alert to the novel coronavirus -A guide to breaking the negative spiral-

http://www.jrc.or.jp/english/jrc_news/pdf/Three%20faces%20we%20must%20be%20alert%20to%20the%20novel%20coronavirus%20-A%20guide%20to%20breaking%20the%20negative%20spiral%20-.pdf

