

To those who are submitting a doctoral dissertation:

Guidelines on Handling of Doctoral Dissertation

Graduate School of Economics, Keio University
Keio University Media Center

Doctoral dissertations of those who have been conferred a doctoral degree after being examined by each graduate school at Keio University are made use as a valuable knowledge resource for the promotion of education and research activities. Doctoral dissertations submitted in order to apply for a doctoral degree will be treated as follows after conferment of the degree.

1. In the case full text of the dissertations are made publicly available

- ① Data of Doctoral Dissertation (PDF file)
 - Submitted PDF file data will be available online by Keio Associated Repository of Academic Resources (KOARA)*.
- ② Doctoral Dissertation (formal binding)
 - Formally bound copies of dissertations will be in the possession of the media centers on the campuses where the graduate schools are located. The Media Centers let users peruse the dissertations and also permit them to check-out the dissertations for a designated period.
 - In order to meet academic research needs of Media Center users or to meet those of other university libraries or institutions, the Media Centers will make reproductions of the dissertations (the reproduction is only available to the extent prescribed by the Copyright Act).
